SECTION I

Offering overview

Arclight Pictures Capital is offering a 506(c) private placement to finance Arclight Film Slate 2026, a three-film independent feature film slate spanning genre, drama, and documentary categories. The slate targets production budgets of $1.8M–$3.5M per film and distribution across theatrical, streaming, and international windows.

Each film has a committed director, producer, and named cast (where applicable) with casting confirmed subject to financing close. The Sponsor has pre-committed distribution LOIs with two streaming platforms and international sales representation through an established foreign sales agent. Projected gross revenue per film ranges from 1.8x–3.5x of production budget depending on distribution performance, with a 5-year distribution cycle across theatrical, transactional streaming, subscription streaming, ad-supported streaming, and international territorial sales. These projections are illustrative sponsor assumptions, not guarantees.

Total raise of $8M funds three films at approximately $2.4M each on average (inclusive of production, post-production, marketing, and distribution expenses). Investor economics: preferred return of 15% per annum, distribution waterfall of 60/40 LP/GP on profits above return of capital and preferred, and slate-level diversification across three titles. Because the fictional slate expects production to commence after December 31, 2025, Section 181 direct expensing is unavailable. Any other tax treatment must be determined by qualified tax counsel based on current law and the facts of each production and investor.

UBTI / ERISA / IRA

State income tax

The Company may generate income in states other than the investor's state of residence. Investors may be required to file non-resident income tax returns in those states.

> Consult your tax advisor. The foregoing is a general summary and is not tax advice. Each prospective investor should consult with his or her own tax advisor regarding the specific federal, state, and local tax consequences of an investment in the Company.

SECTION XI

Risk factors

An investment in the Company involves substantial risk. Prospective investors should carefully consider the following risks, in addition to the other information presented in this Memorandum, before making an investment decision.

Illiquid investment

An investment in the interests is illiquid. There is no public market for the interests and none is expected to develop. Investors must be prepared to hold their investment for the full investment period and may not be able to sell when they need liquidity.

Risk of loss of capital

An investment in the interests involves a high degree of risk and could result in the partial or total loss of an investor's capital. Investors should only invest capital they can afford to lose entirely.

Distributions are not guaranteed

The Company is not required to make distributions. The timing and amount of any distribution depend on performance, available cash, obligations, reserves, and the governing documents.

Reliance on the Sponsor

The success of the investment depends on the skill, experience, and efforts of the Sponsor and its principals. The loss of key personnel or failure to execute the investment strategy could materially adversely affect the Company and the investment.

Conflicts of interest

The Sponsor and its affiliates may engage in other activities and may face conflicts involving competing opportunities, allocation of time, fees, and related-party transactions. Investors rely on the Sponsor to identify and manage those conflicts in accordance with the governing documents.

Regulatory and legal changes

Changes in laws, regulations, licensing requirements, or their interpretation could increase costs, restrict operations, or adversely affect the Company, its investments, or investor returns.

Deal-specific risks

Box office and distribution performance risk, theatrical, streaming, and international distribution outcomes are inherently uncertain; a film may underperform revenue projections, resulting in reduced or zero distributions to investors.

Production execution risk, production budget overruns, key-person production issues, or post-production delays could affect delivery timeline, distribution windows, and financial performance of individual films.

Completion and delivery risk, although completion bonds are in place, a film that cannot be completed or delivered would trigger completion bond payouts that may not fully restore investor capital.

Tax treatment risk, Section 181 direct expensing is unavailable for productions commencing after December 31, 2025. Any other federal or state tax treatment requires analysis by qualified tax counsel, and investors should not rely on projected tax benefits.

Illiquidity and distribution timing, film investment returns are backloaded and depend on successful distribution across multiple windows over a 4–7 year distribution cycle; there is no secondary market for fund interests.

Notices to Residents

The following language consists entirely of draft suggestions selected for possible offering jurisdictions. Selection does not establish that a legend, exemption, filing, or jurisdiction applies. Each suggestion must be confirmed and approved by securities counsel before use.

> Drafting status, counsel review pending. Every legend shown here is a non-authoritative draft suggestion, not a determination that the language applies or is legally sufficient. Jurisdiction selection, notice-filing obligations, wording, delivery requirements, fees, and deadlines vary with the offering and investor facts and may change. Securities counsel must verify the final jurisdictions and approve every legend before investor distribution.

The following defined terms are used throughout this Memorandum. Terms not defined here have the meanings ascribed to them in the governing agreement.

ACCREDITATION VERIFICATION	The issuer's obligation under Rule 506(c) to take reasonable steps to verify that each purchaser is an accredited investor, for example by reviewing W-2s, brokerage statements, or a third-party verification letter from a licensed professional.
BLUE SKY FILING	A notice filing made with a state securities regulator in connection with an offering sold to residents of that state. Rule 506 offerings are covered securities that pre-empt substantive state review but still require a notice filing and fee in most states.

CATCH-UP	A tier of the distribution waterfall that pays the sponsor a disproportionately high share of profits until the sponsor has "caught up" to an agreed allocation (often 20%) of total distributions above the preferred return. Catch-ups are typically 50/50 or 100/0 in favor of the sponsor until the target is reached.
CLAWBACK	A provision that requires the sponsor or general partner to return previously-distributed promote if later losses cause the LPs' aggregate return to fall below the promised preferred return or capital-return threshold. Common in European-style waterfalls.
DISTRIBUTION	A payment of cash (or in-kind property) from the Company to its investors. Distributions follow the order of priority set out in the distribution waterfall and may be subject to legal availability, reserves, and lender consent.

ESCROW	An arrangement by which subscription funds are held by a qualified third-party escrow agent, typically a bank or trust company, until the minimum offering amount is reached or a specified break date occurs. Funds return to investors if the minimum is not met.
FORM D	The notice of an exempt offering of securities generally filed electronically with the SEC through EDGAR no later than 15 calendar days after the first sale in a Regulation D offering. States may require separate notice filings, often using a copy of the filed Form D. The form reports information about the issuer, related persons, offering, investors, and use of proceeds.
GENERAL PARTNER (GP)	The entity that manages a limited partnership and has personal liability for the partnership's obligations. In private-fund structures the GP is typically an affiliate of the sponsor and receives the management fee and carried interest.
GENERAL SOLICITATION	Public advertising and marketing of a securities offering. General solicitation is prohibited under Rule 506(b) but expressly permitted under Rule 506(c) and Regulation A (subject to the respective issuer and investor requirements of each rule).
HURDLE RATE	A minimum return threshold that must be achieved before the sponsor earns promote or carried interest. The hurdle is often expressed as an IRR or a preferred return and is the trigger for the next tier of the waterfall.
ILLIQUIDITY	The condition that an investment cannot readily be sold or transferred. Interests sold under Regulation D are restricted securities and generally cannot be resold without registration or an available exemption; investors should expect to hold through the full hold period.
INTERNAL RATE OF RETURN (IRR)	The discount rate that makes the net present value of an investment's contributions and distributions equal to zero. IRR is commonly expressed as an annualized, money-weighted return and is sensitive to the amount and timing of cash flows; it should be considered together with measures such as MOIC and the underlying assumptions.
SCHEDULE K-1	The IRS schedule used by partnerships and LLCs taxed as partnerships to report each partner's or member's share of income, deductions, credits, and other tax items. Delivery timing depends on completion of the entity's tax return and any extensions and may be later than the original return due date.

KEY PERSON PROVISION	An LP protection that suspends new investments and, in some cases, terminates the investment period if one or more designated key professionals cease to devote substantially all of their business time to the sponsor or fund.
LIMITED PARTNER (LP)	A passive investor in a limited partnership whose liability is generally limited to the amount of its capital commitment. Limited partners do not participate in the management of the partnership.
MANAGER	The person or entity that manages a manager-managed limited liability company. In a syndication structure the manager is typically an affiliate of the sponsor and receives management fees and promote.
MOIC / EQUITY MULTIPLE	Multiple of Invested Capital, the ratio of total cash distributions to total invested capital. A 2.0x MOIC means an investor received $2 for every $1 contributed. MOIC ignores the time value of money, which is captured by IRR.
NET ASSET VALUE (NAV)	The fair value of the Company's assets less its liabilities. NAV per interest is the figure typically used for interim-period reporting, redemptions (if any), and performance measurement.
OPERATING AGREEMENT	The governing document of a limited liability company that sets out the rights and obligations of the members and the manager, including contributions, distributions, management, transfer restrictions, and dissolution. Often delivered as Exhibit A to this Memorandum.
PRIVATE PLACEMENT MEMORANDUM (PPM)	The disclosure document delivered to prospective investors in a private securities offering. This Memorandum, together with its exhibits and the subscription agreement, constitutes the complete offering materials.

PROMOTE / CARRIED INTEREST	The sponsor's disproportionate share of profits above the preferred return. In real estate it is typically called "promote"; in private equity and venture capital it is typically called "carried interest." The promote is the sponsor's primary compensation for performance.
RULE 506(B)	The Regulation D safe harbor that permits an issuer to raise an unlimited amount from an unlimited number of accredited investors and up to 35 non-accredited sophisticated investors, so long as no general solicitation is used.

RULE 506(C)	The Regulation D safe harbor that permits general solicitation but limits sales to accredited investors only and requires the issuer to take reasonable steps to verify accredited status.
SPONSOR	The firm that organizes, manages, and promotes the offering. The Sponsor is typically affiliated with the Manager or General Partner and earns fees and promote from the Company.
SUBSCRIPTION AGREEMENT	The contract executed by a prospective investor to commit capital to the offering. It contains the investor's representations regarding accreditation and suitability, the payment terms, and the investor's acknowledgment of the risks disclosed in the Memorandum.

Its timing, assumed tax rate, limitations, and treatment under the distribution waterfall are determined by the governing documents and may not cover an investor's actual liability.
WATERFALL	The ordered rules for distributing cash from the Company to its investors and the sponsor. A typical waterfall first returns invested capital, then pays a preferred return, then splits residual profits between LPs and the sponsor across one or more promote tiers.
